

Appliance Warranty Transfer Instructions

Action Required Upon Move-In

To ensure all appliance warranties are properly transferred and active under your name, please contact each manufacturer listed below and complete the warranty registration process. This step is required to receive full warranty coverage and service support.

Please note: Buildoly does not transfer appliance warranties on behalf of homeowners. This responsibility belongs solely to the homeowner.

The process typically takes 5–10 minutes per appliance.

Required Information

Before calling, please have the following information available. Manufacturers require the model and serial numbers to complete the warranty transfer.

- Full name
- Property address
- Move-in date
- Appliance model number (required)
- Appliance serial number (required)
(These can typically be found on a label inside the appliance door or on the rear panel.)

Warranty Start Date Policy

By default, appliance warranties begin on the date the appliance is delivered.

Once you receive your Certificate of Occupancy (CO) from the city, you may contact the appliance manufacturer and request that the warranty start date be updated to match the CO issuance date. This ensures your full warranty coverage aligns with your official occupancy date.

Instructions

1. Call the appropriate manufacturer using the contact information below.
2. Inform the representative that you would like to transfer or register the appliance warranty in your name.
3. Provide your personal information and the required model and serial numbers.
4. If you have received your Certificate of Occupancy, request that the warranty start date be updated to the CO issuance date.
5. Request confirmation that the warranty has been successfully updated.
